

CTL 2go Convertible PC

The 2 go Convertible PC from CTL is a great device, with the only downside being that it is from a little known manufacturer. The handwriting recognition tool in the software is one of the best we've ever worked with, and the touch panel is very responsive. The built in webcam is also very good, it takes clear pictures with an adjustable resolution. It has an Intel Atom Processor and comes with 1 GB of memory standard, or you can upgrade to 2 GB. The tablet also comes with a handle, making it very easy to carry and work with in the field. You can use it as a tablet and then set it up as a laptop to type up your final comments on your inspection report. You can purchase the 2go Convertible PC from CTL's website for $534.

- Microsoft Windows 7 Starter (can be upgraded to Home Premium or Professional)
- Intel Atom N450 processor (1.6GHz)
- 1GB RAM (2GB option)
- 1.3 megapixel webcam that swivels
- 8.9-inch LCD screen, 1024x600
- Up to 5 hours of battery life
- < 3 lbs
- WI-FI, 802.11 b/g
- Built-in Accelerometer
- 1 year warranty